

As winter comes to a close, answer these trivia questions about the Chicagoland area. Guessing is allowed!

- 1) What's the most snow we've had in one year?
- 2) What's the least snow we've had?
- 3) What's the highest snowfall ever recorded in one day?
- 4) What's the latest snow event that we've experienced?
- 5) Which day of the year has had measurable snow fall most often?

As winter comes to a close, answer these trivia questions about the Chicagoland area. Guessing is allowed!

According to Tom Skilling of WGN news, wgntv.com, records date back to the 1884-85 snow season. Also check US government records at weather.gov for weather data.

1) What's the most snow we've had in one year?

1978-79, 89.7 inches

2) What's the least snow we've had?

1920-21, 9.8 inches

3) What's the highest snowfall ever recorded in one day?

January 26-27, 1967, 23 inches

4) What's the latest snow event that we've experienced?

May 25, 1924

5) Which day of the year has had measurable snow fall most often?

January 26

Cool graph!

[weather.gov/
lot/snowclimatology](https://weather.gov/lot/snowclimatology)

Frequency of Snow of ≥ 1 inch by Day: Chicago, IL 1884-2019

